Project: Finch Road Health Centre, Birmingham

Healthcare

“ Adventurer is exceptionally hardwearing and long lasting, which prolongs the floorcovering’s lifespan to significantly reduce repair and replacement costs. ”

Tom Marlow
One Creative Environments

The new Finch Road Health Centre in Birmingham provides healthcare services for local residents and forms part of the Heart of Birmingham Primary Care Trust (PCT).

Designed by One Creative Environments, a leading architect in the healthcare sector, the new-build forms part of the Towards 2010 initiative, which aims to improve healthcare provision in the Sandwell and West Birmingham areas.

Adventurer was fitted in the corridors, reception area, lecture theatre and consulting and assessment rooms of the new primary care centre, providing a welcoming and attractive environment for patients and staff.

Adventurer is particularly suited to busy environments requiring a hardwearing surface to withstand constant pressure from foot and wheeled traffic, without compromising on aesthetics.
